

View this email in your browser

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am approaching you because we created the Digital Product School, a 3-month-program that might interest the students of the Technological Education Institute of Kavala.

We consider the students of your renowned university a perfect match for this program.

The DPS is operated by the non-profit company UnternehmerTUM. It is funded by the Bavarian government and industry partners who are operating in the mobility space.

The Digital Product School is based in Munich and aims at teaching students how to create digital products in cross-functional teams.

Additionally to the free participation, we offer 500 EUR per month in grants, will provide free housing in Munich and give access to the local start-up and tech scene.

If you think that this program could fit your students, I would appreciate if you could forward this message through the according channels or point us out to somebody we can discuss further details with.

Interested parties can apply until the 1st of March through our website:

Visit the Digital Product School Website

On the website you can also find a PDF with detailed information about the program.

Thank you and best regards,
Dominik Getzinger
Digital Product School Munich

_DIGITAL PRODUCT SCHOOL

Copyright © 2017 Digital Product School c/o UnternehmerTUM, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list

MailChimp